What is UCVTS?

Union County Vocational Technical Schools is a district of public vocational technical schools located in Scotch Plains, NJ. We are made up of five schools, spanning the disciplines of Theatre, Dance, Allied Health, Engineering, Information Technology and many more.

Why sponsor?

HackUC is a hackathon that aims to inspire and encourage high school students to explore technology and the potential of coding. Though students have the freedom to create their own hacks, sponsors may guide them through a project whether it be through swag, APIs, or workshops.

Companies can also use this opportunity to build brand awareness, receive product feedback, and evangelize their products to a new generation of leaders.

Are you considering a different kind of sponsorship?

At HackUC we encourage all our participants to “find their spark”, to find their own unique way to connect Computer Science to their lives. We encourage our sponsors to do the same, and try to find unique ways to support us, such as:

Sponsor a Meal/Beverages/Snacks - we will need to provide students with lunch, dinner, breakfast, and a constant source of caffeine. After all, great hacks are fostered by more than just a spark of genius.

Swag - build your brand awareness and spark interest in your company
